

Process of boring underneath the Eye Brook pipeline and road. The road can be seen in the top background. The borer, which is a screw, works inside the liner tube shown in the photograph. This is pushed through the excavation and consists of lengths welded together. Finally the pipeline is put through the liner which is 40" dia.

36" dia. North Sea Gas line taken from the Eye Brook approach road.

